

ERASMUS diaries - Germany: Urspring Schule

Monday, 22nd of May 2023 - Urspring

On Sunday after an unfortunate turn of events we had to stay one night in Munich, for this reason we arrived at our destination, Urspring Schule, late. As a result, our project work was also delayed. Despite the early inconveniences, we managed to have a pleasant time during the programme and

I can say that we had a productive day. Following a short introduction, we jumped right into the project work. The task for today was to create a show about culture in Germany and Hungary. Later on we had to present our performance at a retirement home. The leader of the project was a Syrian musician who brought instruments. The Erasmus class was divided into 4 groups. Each group had his own task. One of them had to come up with a German, Hungarian song, others had to create traditional dance, also a drama play and lastly a presentation about laws in connection with immigration. We finished the show after lunch and walked to the retirement home. In my opinion the senior people had a great time and enjoyed our performance. Additionally after the presentation one of the elderlies came to us and mentioned that she had been in Hungary several times. To end our day we ate some ice cream at a local café in Schelklingen and we had fun playing volleyball with the school team.

Tuesday, 23rd of May 2023 - Blaubeuren

On Tuesday morning we went to the library, and we did some project work. The task was to design a planet. We had different opinions, so we had interesting arguments. After lunch we had 2 hours to chill in the dorm. Then we went to Blaubeuren, to a stone age museum. We even designed our masks there, and we could try on real caveman costumes. After having an ice cream to refill our batteries, we had a walk at Blautopf. Afterwards we returned to Urspring to have dinner.

Wednesday, 24th of May 2023 - Stuttgart

Arriving at Stuttgart, we headed straight to Königsbau, where we had an opportunity to visit a Banksy exhibition, even though there are barely any in Europe. After a quick lunch, our task for the day was filling out surveys with locals and tourists on the nearby square. The survey covered the most significant questions about immigration in Germany. Following our insightful task, the group split. Four of us, including me, chose to visit the Porsche Museum, in the heart of Stuttgart. The museum showed us both the evolution of the company and the famous engine.

Thursday, 25th of May 2023 - Ulm

On Thursday we started our day by evaluating the street surveys from the previous day. We had to work together and make a presentation about it. During the breaks we played some foosball and pool. Afterwards we had lunch in the school canteen, then we set off to the city of Ulm. When we arrived the beautiful view of the city welcomed us. We went up to the towers of a beautiful cathedral called Ulm Münster which is actually the tallest tower in the world. When we finally made it to the top we were able to see the whole city from above. Then we walked around the city with our tour guide from the school and we got to know several different facts about the city. We even saw the Danube crossing through. Afterwards we had some free time to visit some shops before going to a restaurant to have dinner there. We could choose whatever we wanted to. The food was delicious and indeed filling. Then we found our way back to the bank of the Danube where we listened to music and talked with each other until dawn.

Friday, 26th of May - Last night

On Friday morning we made a summary table of the whole week. Afterwards we went out for breakfast, which was delicious. There were a lot of choices: yoghurt, cereal etc. After breakfast everyone gave a presentation. We ate lunch, packed our bags and went to Ulm for a swim in a spa, while Jannik, Ákos and Vivi went for a bike ride. While the rest of us went to BlauBau. There were four pools and a long slide, everyone enjoyed it.

After a bath, everyone went over to Frederick's house. There we had a barbecue while having a chat.
